WOMAN CARRIER IS CAUGHT BY POSTMASTER

MEMPHIS, Aug. 19. (Sp.)—Miss Mabel Barnascone, about 25 years of age, who Postmaster B. F. Hyde caught red-handed with 231 letters which she had secured from the local postoffice, according to Mr. Hyde, of the county jail in lieu of $3,000 bond. Miss Barnascone was employed as a substitute rural mail carrier in August a year ago.

Saturday, while hidden where he had a view of the whole lower floor of the building he saw Miss Barnascone take the letters, he said, and when arrested and searched she had 231 on her person.

It is said that Miss Barnascone opened the letters while carrying her route, taking out money, tearing up money orders and other contents. This course has been pursued for about a year. The officials charge. Hyde saw her in the act.

Holland is alleged to have been the daylight burglar who invaded the home of Mrs. C. E. Sunderland, 301 Park avenue, several days ago, from which he stole a car. Police are chasing him. Brainerd and Pryde preferred the housebreaking charge against him. Detectives Hagan and Griffin alleged that he stole a truck from the Browne & Borum company. GIBSON AUTHORIZES ROAD BOND ISSUE

TRENTON, Tenn., Aug. 19. (Sp.)—The Gibson county court, in special session here Monday authorized the issuance of $500,000 worth of road bonds, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the construction of permanent highways in Gibson county. This action was taken after an all-day session and after the matter had been discussed from all angles, and it marks the beginning of an era of progress in road matters in the county. W. W. House, chairman of the state highway commission, was present and addressed the court at length upon the proposed plan for the development of highway systems throughout the state and nation, and the results of the day were largely due to the fair and square manner in which he presented the matter.

The representatives of the two contending highways, the Meridian, and the Burlington highway, effected a compromise when they realized that while the people of Gibson county were fighting among themselves, that those of other sections were profiting by the liberal proposition of the state highway commission and were building permanent highways. These gentlemen came together and reached a tentative agreement relative to routes and roads that should be improved first, subject to the approval of the county court and the state highway commission of the state. These lines were:

- (1) The Meridian highway, entering Gibson county on the south from Madison county and running northward through Humboldt, Trenton and thence northeast to the Weasley county line.
- (2) The Burlington highway, entering Gibson county from the south and Madison county, running through Medina, Milan, Cadmus, Bradford and thence northward to the Weasley county line.
- (3) A road entering Gibson county from Crockett county and running northwesterly through Trenton and continuing in that direction to the Weasley county line.

RUN-OFFS INTEREST TATE COUNTIANS

SENATORIA, Miss., Aug. 19. (Sp.)—With just one more week until the second primary, the run-offs in Tate county are taking on a lively hue and the old-time political fever. In the first primary it was hard sledding for the candidates to get up anything like a boiling heat; but in the homestretch winners are being placed and backed, and it is beginning to look like “before the war politics.” In the governor's race the odds are about even, and Russell led the ticket in the first primary by 172 votes. Longino and Collins received together 510 votes. It is said that a good part of Collins' vote will go to Russell, and Collins led Longino by about 100 votes.

The race for sheriff of the county is the strongest drawing card in the run-offs. The contestants, Dr. R. D. Williams and W. C. Callahan, are battling for a home run with much more spirit and zeal than has been put into any of the other races. As in all the others, the friends of both are claiming a victory.

The race for circuit clerk between J. B. Fuller and Marshall Campbell is warming up some. The races or tax assessor between Fred Massey and J. B. Kerr, and for treasurer between H. C. Featherston and C. S. Pack, are running about on schedule, without much excitement.

BLOOD SACRIFICE OF MERCHANT IS FATAL

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Aug. 19. (Sp.)—Charles E. Levenson, head of the Levenson shoe company, and one of the most prominent business men of the city, died Sunday at noon at Hepburn hospital, Ordensburg, N. Y. He had been for nearly a month for treatment. Mr. Levenson has been in bad health since he gave up two pints of blood in June to save his wife, who later died.

The merchant was 47 years of age and was born at Danville, Ill., coming to Pine Bluff about 30 years ago. He had been in the shoe business here the entire time.

The deceased was a member of Trinity Episcopal church, Elks lodge, the Macabees and the Rotary club. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Martha Levenson, of Danville, Ill., and three brothers—Frank, of Dayton, Ohio; Ark; Will, of Danville, Ill.; and Fred, of Marion, O.—three sisters—Mrs. Otto Smith, of this city; Mrs. Marjorie, of Marion, O.; and Mrs. Louis McIntyre, who is a Chautauque entertainer. The body will be brought here for burial some time this week, but funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Envoy At Peking Protests Boycott

Minister Obata.

Mr. Obata, the Japanese minister at Peking, has protested in the strongest terms to the Chinese government against the present boycott. He complains that Japanese steamships can not discharge their cargoes and that Japanese merchants are losing heavily something for which they will later demand indemnities from China.

According to recent reports from the Chinese capital, the Japanese residents of Peking have been warned to remain indoors at night because of the ill-feeling against Japan on the part of the Chinese.

RAP LLOYD GEORGE FOR FAILING TO CUT EXPENSES
LONDON, Aug. 19.—Disappointment that Premier Lloyd George, in his address in the house of commons yesterday, ignored the general demand for a reduction of national expenditures was the feature of the comment of most of the newspapers today. Friendly and hostile editorials generally agree that he made an excellent plea for economy in industry, and increased production, and also that he offered some sensible proposals for a future industrial policy. Such comments, however, are overshadowed in most of the newspapers by sharp condemnation of what is termed his failure to recognize the extravagance and waste in government departments.

Justus, who is now on duty at the blue-eyed, golden-haired woman who smiled William Cunningham, a banker, into cashing a check for a trivial amount was Mrs. Wesley. The little woman avers she was in Texas with her babies when the woman cashed the check in far away Seattle.
